WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The United States Supreme Court has lost no time in taking advantage of an opportunity to declare itself on the President's recovery program.

It has set for hearing on December 4 an appeal by Leo Nebbia, Rochester, N. Y., milk distributor, from a state court decision upholding the right of the government to fix prices. Directly, the case involves only the validity of the New York milk control act. Actually this law is similar to the Agricultural Adjustment Act, under which the Secretary of Agriculture regulates milk prices throughout the country. Therefore the Supreme Court's decision is certain to determine the constitutional status of agricultural recovery.

The outcome may have historic consequences.

CHANGED FRONT

Great changes have come over Japanese policy toward the United States—especially since Roosevelt moved to recognize Russia.

To witness: One year ago a gentleman named Toshi Shiratori, spokesman of the Japanese Foreign Office, was handing out daily, jingoistic statements to the press. There was almost nothing too unfriendly for him to say of the United States and especially its Secretary of State, Henry L. Stimson.

At one time he charged Stimson with "fuminations and lying."

A few days ago the same gentleman passed through Washington, this time doctored as a lamb.

"My trouble was," he told newspapermen, "that I did not know how to beat around the bush."

REFUNDING

The administration's Liberty Bond conversion undertaking is making steady progress. The Treasury has accumulated $500,000,000 in cash which it can use to retire Fourth Liberties next April.

More important, the response disclosed a strong demand for long-term government securities.

Junior High To Entertain For Parents

Preparations are going on busily for an evening of entertainment in the Longfellow auditorium, to which the faculty of Longfellow Junior high invited the parents and friends of the school on Wednesday, November the third, at 8 o'clock.

Shop classes and the art class are cooperating to transform the stage into a realistic setting for the play, "Rescued by Radio".

"Crag's Head Eleven" is a radio message that produces enough mystery to make the two-act comedy entertaining from beginning to end. Joseph Razich and Dorothy Younglove as the two strange visitors add more suspense to the plot. Interest also centers around the roles played by Chester Smith and Anna-bee Tarr.

The entire Torchbearers class is working enthusiastically to make this guest evening a pleasant occasion.

More Time Given Officers In Suit

MARTINEZ, Oct. 28.—Superior Judge Thomas D. Johnston today had approved an order allowing defendants in an action filed by Frank Hollender, against twenty constables and justices of the peace, until November 10 to file answers, demurrers, or any such motions as they may deem advisable.

Hollender is asking judgment of $19,355.30 against the justices and constables, claiming that they received salary illegally on the grounds that population counts in their townships were reported larger than they actually were.

Retail Code Regulations Announced

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—UP—Regulations to guide the operation of hundreds of thousands of stores under the identical general retail and retail drug codes which became effective Monday were issued tonight by the NRA.

Except as otherwise exempted the codes apply to all establishments, except grocery, tobacco, gasoline, automobile, lumber, coal, jewelry and a few other classes of retail establishments governed or about to be governed by separate codes.

By Presidential orders stores employing five or fewer persons and operating only in towns of less than 2500 are exempt from all provisions of the code.

Tonight's interpretation held that every person working in a store, except the proprietor must be counted as an employee, regardless as whether he works full or part time.

Purely vending machines do not come under the ban.

The district attorney said that in a countywide checkup shows only four machines in communities other than the extreme western end of the county. He has directed that operators be arrested if the machines are of the money type.

Hopkins and Miss Kenyon, children of the late Arthur Hopkins, wealthy New York broker, Doris Kenyon, film actress, widow of Milton Sills, announced here today she will seek divorce on the ground of incompatibility.

The girl was found by a passing farmer who summoned officers. The girl, whose name is withheld by police, said that a girl companion leaped from the machine near Richmond.

U. S. FARM UNREST IS SPREADING

POOR FACE HARD WINTER ALL NATION FACES GREAT RELIEF NEED

(Copyright by United Press, 1933)

CHICAGO, Oct. 28—UP—The nation tonight faced its fifth winter of depression with every indication that deeds for the relief of human suffering would equal or exceed those of any past year, a state by state survey by the United Press revealed.

The information was gathered from eastern industrial centers and midwest farming regions by the United Press on the eve of a national rally in Chicago to mobilize citizens behind a drive to feed, clothe and care for victims of economic distress.

Situation Acute

Report after report stressed the situation as the most acute of the depression. Even in territories where strong recovery has taken place, funds are at a low ebb after the drain of recent years. The task of caring for lessened relief needs in many instances is more difficult than the greater burdens of the past.

In nearly a third of the state's special sessions of legislatures are being called to provide new appropriations or voters are balloting on extraordinary relief bond issues.

Leaders To Meet

If the direct relief situation is serious, that of supplementary social welfare, provided in most part by charity contributions, is equally so. It is to call attention to this crisis that nationally social-minded leaders are meeting in Chicago Monday headed by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Newton D. Baker, Jane

Slot Machines Ordered Out Of El Cerrito

District Attorney James F. Hoey made a round of establishments in El Cerrito yesterday with Chief of Police R. R. Clark and seven slot machines in violation of the law were found.

No arrests were made as the operators of the places where they were found stated they had been told they were legal.

Instructions were given that the illegal machines must be removed and Hoey said that continued operation of them would bring arrest.

PLOTTER IS SOUGHT BY U. S. POLICE

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—UP—The government acted under a wartime measure today to curb permanently the alleged intrigue of Helmut Spanknebel, described as a "little Hitler" seeking to Nazify German-American activities in this country and set himself up as a dictator over the German language press.

United States Attorney George Z. Medalie announced he had issued a score of subpoenas and would appear before a Federal grand jury Monday.

Tell Case

He will present the case against Spanknebel and those of his associates who may come under the anti-propaganda measure passed during the World War.

The Ridder brothers, prominent publishers, were understood to have told Medalie of alleged "terroristic" tactics used by Spanknebel and of a visit to their office during which he displayed credentials from the German press bureau and said "from now on I dictate."

Plot Revealed

They ordered him to leave but later he was instrumental in effecting their suspension from the United German Societies after they had openly denounced his alleged foes to convert the organization to an instrument for dissemination of propaganda.

A day after the denunciation Spanknebel disappeared from his usual haunts and was understood to have been recalled aboard the S. S. Deutschland. Since the charges against him are "political" in nature, they do not provide for extradition and thus any indictment would be effective only in event of his return to this country.

Shift Made

Spanknebel's departure caused a shift in the plans of Representative Samuel Dickstein, chairman of the House immigration committee, for congressional inquiry into Nazi activities here.

Dickstein, who claims to have formation that an alleged Nazi organization, The Friends of New Germany, has joined up in some states with remnants of the Ku Klux Klan to foster race hatred, said he would concentrate now on Ignaz Griebel, chief aide of Spanknebel.

Solons to Meet

Griebel will be asked to appear before a subcommittee to explain the circumstances of his naturalization and how he became a first lieutenant in the Army medical reserve corps. He fought for Germany in the World War according to committee investigators. Dickstein said he had information concerning "40 or so" other alleged Nazis and would move to have them deported.

The subcommittee meets for the first time November 14.

Many Homes Are Aided by Loans

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—UP—A total of 22,832 home foreclosures affecting $65,271,957 in mortgages have been avoided through operations of the Federal Home Owners' Loan Corporation, it was announced.

This is good news to the government's financiers. It is likely that another long-term issue will be offered soon.

CLEAN SKIRTS

Liberal friends of the President in New York City are sending in urgent appeals to "clean his skirts" of any connection with the Farley-backed majority candidate of "Holy Joe" McKee.

Their private advices are that Florello LaGuardia, Fusion candidate, will win, and that the National Republican committee is preparing to launch nation-wide propaganda that this victory is a smashing political reversal for Roosevelt.

In substantiation of this claim they are telling the President of a confidential cable sent by former Secretary of the Treasury "Oggie" Mills from Europe early in the summer to Manhattan Republican leaders. It declared that "under no circumstances" would he support LaGuardia. Today, with the latter's chances bright, Mills is enthusiastically behind him.

Roosevelt's friends warn him that unless he makes a public disclaimer he is in for a tactical set-back.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Lobbyists who, at the special session of Congress almost succeeded in slipping an amendment into the emergency railroad bill permitting the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies to combine, have renewed their secret drive. Members of Congress report being approached by those agents on behalf of the scheme. A few years ago certain Senators, led by King of Utah, violently opposed the arrival of Turkish Ambassador Ahmet Muhtar in the United States. He was met in New York by special guards. Now he is dean of the diplomatic corps. The Ambassador's reception October 31 in honor of Turkey's tenth anniversary, is not being held on the correct date. In Turkey the event is being held on the correct date. In Turkey the event is being celebrated on Sunday, October 29, the real anniversary, Secretary Hull was in though accord with the policy of keeping the U. S. A. out of the Franco-German armament imbroglio. He moved simultaneously with President Roosevelt so to instruct Norman H. Davis.

Auto Driver Found Guilty Of Killings

SALINAS, Oct. 28.—UP—M. A. Cunningham, Watsonville, was convicted on reckless driving charge. Cunningham was held on two counts, both involving involuntary manslaughter after Paul Matulich, Hollister, died in an automobile accident here July 23.

The state charged that Cunningham was intoxicated. The jury found the Watsonville man guilty on one count of involuntary manslaughter while operating an automobile recklessly.

INJURED MAN IS RUSHED TO PEDRO HARBOR

SAN PEDRO, Oct. 28.—UP—A stricken man in dire need of medical assistance was being rushed toward this port tonight for treatment because wireless telegraphy and the unceasing edge of the sea toward those in distress cooperated to aid him.

Whitehead J. Lofok, victim of a man white on a small fishing boat 600 miles south of here, was the center of the sea drama. He was aboard the British freighter "Pacific Reliance," bound from Glasgow to Los Angeles harbor. The Reliance is due Sunday morning.

Lofok, employed on the fishing schooner Rainbow, was injured while the craft was anchored off Magdalena Bay, off the Mexican coast. The Rainbow, carrying no wireless, hauled down the fishing boat White Star. Towed by radio, faint calls from the White Star were picked up by the Mackay station here.

Conditions of Lofok was described and physicians were called in to suggest treatment. It was decided he must reach port here as soon as possible.

The White Star radio operator toiled for hours over his set and the faint message passed back and forth. Finally the Mackay station contacted the Pacific Reliance in the vicinity of the Rainbow. The captain of the British boat readily agreed to veer from his course to transfer the suffering fisherman.

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 28.—UP—Agitation for recognition of silver in the administration's economic recovery program reached an intense pitch in the mountain west tonight.

Opinion among western advocates of the white metal's cause was divided sharply on the soundness and potential effectiveness of President Roosevelt's new gold money policy. The President is seeking to raise commodity prices and the nation's prosperity by authorizing the reconstruction finance corporation to purchase newly minted domestic gold at daily advancing prices.

DRY AGENT IS SHOT BY RUM RUNNER GANG

SANTA ROSA, Oct. 28.—UP—A Federal prohibition agent was wounded, while a second was kidnapped, early today when three agents came upon six rum runners as a cargo of liquor was being unloaded in an isolated Sonoma county ocean cove near Bowen's Landing.

Norman D. Austin, 52 year old agent, was shot through the arm. The bullet was deflected by a shoulder holster and inflicted another superficial wound in his back.

Sam Byrd, another agent, had a narrow escape when a bullet drilled through his hat. A third agent, William Goggins, was uninjured. All were from San Francisco headquarters.

The agents surprised the rum runners and captured two of them. Byrd was guarding the pair when Austin and Goggins walked into an ambush nearby. The rum runners fired on them with high-powered rifles.

When the shooting started, the men guarded by Byrd seized him and kidnapped him in his car. Byrd was abandoned and the car stalled by the two miles from the scene of the battle.

A small cache of liquor was seized by Federal men and county officers who were hunting the rum runners over a wide territory.

ALL NATION FACES GREAT RELIEF NEED

Adams and Federal Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins.

The United Press survey showed the situation most serious in those sections of the country which longest escaped the full brunt of the depression. Typical of such districts is Los Angeles, where $2,000,000 monthly is required and conditions are estimated to be twice as bad a year ago.

States Face Crisis

Two major states where a crisis is faced are Pennsylvania and Illinois. Pennsylvania is spending about $7,000,000 monthly. State funds are exhausted.

Unions voters approve a $25,000,000 bond issue November 7 in the state's unemployed face the winter of hunger and cold. In Illinois $5,500,000 is being spent monthly. The legislature is meeting in special session called by Governor Harry Horner to vote a $30,000,000 bond issue. Here, too, available funds all have been spent.

State Solons To Meet
Legislative sessions have been called to meet relief crisis in Colorado, Wyoming, Oregon, Missouri and Iowa. Voters in dozens of communities will ballot on relief measures November 7.

In some central states, needs are considerably less than last year. These include Kansas, Indiana, Wisconsin and Iowa.

But Nebraska and Minnesota reported sharply higher relief wants. New York is expected to spend twice as much on relief this winter than last.

Anglo-American Smuggling Pact Will Be Ended

LONDON, Oct. 28.—UP—Nullification of Britain's 1924 anti-smuggling treaty with the United States involving the "12 mile limit" theory, was predicted today by international observers who expect such an action immediately after repeal of the United States.

The British government does not intend to denounce the treaty at once although the United Press was informed that official abrogation may be expected within a year.

The treaty recognizes America's right to search British vessels for alcohol beverages while they are within "one hour's run" of the United States coast line. In extreme cases, the British ships were also made subject to seizure. Arbitration was provided over claims for loss or damage "due to unreasonable or improper exercise of rights under the treaty."

Three months are required for cancellation of the pact, which has been, during nine years, an important source of constant international trouble involving delicate questions of laws regarding "chase of ships at sea" and other actions deemed high-handed by other nations.

Accordingly, for days at a time, the one-time unofficial ruler of the Arabian empire sat cramped in his small device while the Royal airmen hurled down missiles in an attempt to blow it up.

It was Shaw, an Oxford man, who specialized in archeology, who won the desert tribesmen over to the allies during the World War and made their revolt against Turkey successful. When Great Britain offered to make him a peer, to give him a life grant, to decorate him with the stars of its most noble orders, he turned his nose down. He lost himself for a time in the air forces as a private.

For more than two years he has specialized in supervising the construction of a motor boat designed for use in air maneuvers. Shortly after his assignment to boats he conceived the idea of building an inexpensive motor boat capable of use as a target for air bombers.

The administration made clear that it was backing NRA to the limit, even at the risk of a Supreme court test of the constitutionality of the recovery act.

In the case of Ford, officials kept a close eye on negotiations with strikers at his Edgewater, N. J., assembly plant. The collective bargaining mandate of the automobile code and the recovery act is a vital issue.

As for the steel companies, rapid fire developments were expected at a White House conference Monday regarding their long dispute with the administration over labor conditions in their Pennsylvania captive coal mines.

Shaw was uninjured, and the tests were regarded as successful.

HAVANA, Oct. 28.—UP—The National Federation of Labor today decreed a general strike to start tomorrow, Sunday, at midnight and continued for 48 hours with the possibility of the period being extended. The strike is a protest over the army killing at Jaroni sugar central.

Tom's Cabin Is Attacked By U. D. of C.

HOUSTON, Oct. 28.—The United Daughters of the Confederacy appeared today to have won the first skirmish in their battle to prevent the Rice Institute club from presenting Uncle Tom's Cabin, famous old melodrama of Civil War days.

While refusing to surrender completely, the college players apparently were driven to cover by the fury of the U. D. C. attack.

Mrs. W. W. Turner, of Webster, State president of the U. D. C., said she thought it was a "disgrace" that any Southern institution should present "this unfair play which helped bring about the Civil War."

COURT REFUSES TO RECOGNIZE RENO DIVORCE

MARTINEZ, Oct. 28.—Declining to recognize a Reno divorce obtained last year by the defendant, Superior Judge A. B. McKenzie today had granted an interlocutory decree in a divorce action instituted by Mrs. Julia Hastings Abel of Walnut Creek against Charles E. Abel, awarding to the wife community property valued at $14,000, custody of two children and $40 monthly for support.

The case was tried before Judge McKenzie with Attorney Leo Marconi appearing as Mrs. Abel's counsel.

McKenzie denied the claim of the defendant that the Nevada decree should be upheld, under the full faith and credit clause of the federal constitution, basing his decision upon a Supreme court finding in a case that was decided in July, 1932.

Abel got the Nevada divorce in 1932 but his wife claimed that his Nevada residence was fraudulently obtained for the sole purpose of getting a decree.

Marullo also contended that California did not have to recognize the divorce, because Abel's residence was not a bona fide one, citing that Mrs. Abel did not submit to the jurisdiction of the court and that service through publication, not personally was obtained upon her.

The Abels married May 1, 1910, in San Antonio, Texas, and she charged that he abandoned her in July, 1929, alleging willful desertion, failure to provide and cruelty.

During the past seven years, she claimed, Abel spent only a few days at a time at his home, told her he did not love her and twice was restrained by a son, Ernest, 22, from striking a daughter, Edith, 20. The third child is Irene, 12.

Snow, who spurned all rewards and title for his work in the Arabian desert, has been devoting his genius to the creation of a bombing target, the United Press learned today. When it became necessary for somebody to sit inside the target and maneuver it under fire, Shaw insisted on taking the job himself.

Accordingly, for days at a time, the one-time unofficial ruler of the Arabian empire sat cramped in his small device while the Royal airmen hurled down missiles in an attempt to blow it up.

It was Shaw, an Oxford man, who specialized in archeology, who won the desert tribesmen over to the allies during the World War and made their revolt against Turkey successful. When Great Britain offered to make him a peer, to give him a life grant, to decorate him with the stars of its most noble orders, he turned his nose down. He lost himself for a time in the air forces as a private.

For more than two years he has specialized in supervising the construction of a motor boat designed for use in air maneuvers. Shortly after his assignment to boats he conceived the idea of building an inexpensive motor boat capable of use as a target for air bombers.

The administration made clear that it was backing NRA to the limit, even at the risk of a Supreme court test of the constitutionality of the recovery act.

In the case of Ford, officials kept a close eye on negotiations with strikers at his Edgewater, N. J., assembly plant. The collective bargaining mandate of the automobile code and the recovery act is a vital issue.

Shaw was uninjured, and the tests were regarded as successful.

Tom's Cabin Is Attacked By U. D. of C.

HOUSTON, Oct. 28.—The United Daughters of the Confederacy appeared today to have won the first skirmish in their battle to prevent the Rice Institute club from presenting Uncle Tom's Cabin, famous old melodrama of Civil War days.

While refusing to surrender completely, the college players apparently were driven to cover by the fury of the U. D. C. attack.

Mrs. W. W. Turner, of Webster, State president of the U. D. C., said she thought it was a "disgrace" that any Southern institution should present "this unfair play which helped bring about the Civil War."
